These two creatures come from the Island of Aldabra and are of most colossal size, living tortoises go. This small group of tortoises from Madagascar, and the Galapagos archipelago, are the only parts of the world where large tortoises now dwell. It is hard to believe that the two tortoises weighing 700 pounds got here. In other days it would have been suggested that it had been brought here by a merchant, changed its form for a bit and then arriving at the islands showed heavy evidence that it was a tortoise.

It is the view that a former land connected enabled it to get there. Once arrived, competition was severe. But otherwise the presence of these unwieldy tortoises is apparently not a serious problem before which the proverbial fly is hamper sales.

The Dominion Department of Trade and Commerce is in receipt of some trade reports from the Foreign Office, London, which state that the exports of nickel ore from New Caledonia, the French penal colony, last year was valued at $30,000,000. As most of this product goes to the United Kingdom, the exports were for the nickel producers of Canada to endeavor to secure a share of the market, which almost exclusively contains the New Caledonia product at the present time.

When the feet of the nule were drawn out, the stone was drawn out the negro was dumfounded.

Typhoid fever is very prevalent in Winnipeg. A late despatch says: "During the past week there have been 25 cases of typhoid fever in the city. Last month the total was 80, so that the fever may be said to be waning the proportions of an epidemic. Dr. Inglis has closed up two wells, and gives it as his opinion that all city wells, with one or two exceptions, should be closed for drinking purposes. A city medical man says there have been over 200 cases of typhoid fever since September 1. Thirty-five deaths have also taken place out of that number and many other patients are very low."

THE PARKDALE MYSTERY.

Further Evidence in the Inquiry on the Shooting of Westwood.

Toronto, Oct. 17.—The latest item in the case of the death of Frank B. Westwood, who was shot down by an assassin at his residence at Parkdale, last night, has been resumed at No. 6 police station last evening.

The hall was again crowded and a curious crowd, unable to gain admission, assembled outside the building. Jurors, witnesses and reporters took up half the room and detective and police officers were everywhere.

Excitement over the murder has cooled down a little from the fever last of last week and the tragedy has become but a part of the daily life of the city.

The case of the murder of Frank Westwood was a case of most people present learning, for some interesting disclosures were expected and sensational developments were whispered of.

Dr. Lynd was first called. Frank had told him that the man who shot him down did not speak a word. He described his murderer as a short young man dressed in dark clothes and wearing a dark hat and light moustache. He believed the boy had told the whole truth regarding the matter.

It was possible that Frank Westwood had committed suicide but not probable.

Mrs. Card was recalled. She had remained at the Grand Opera House till the play was over. This means that she could not have been in the room at the time.

Stephen Leale, 118 Victoria crescent, had heard the first shot while in front of the South Parkdale depot. The shot sounded smothered. At least seven minutes intervened between the two shots. He saw no person in the street at the time.

His own house not a minute after the second shot and it was just 11:14 then. Some importance is attached to this time evidence, as it supports a possible theory of the shooting having taken place inside the house.

Dr. Sparrow swore that it was only 11:10 when he reached Westwood's after the shooting, which contradicts Leale's evidence as to time. Frank told him that he had walked upstairs after the shot was fired.

He had also said he placed his right foot against the door and only partially opened it. Mr. Westwood, said the witness, had been waiting for him, although he knew of no motive.

Miss Besse Stephen, the domestic at Westwood's, who was called in by the police, said that she saw Frank Westwood screaming, "Oh, don't go." She then heard a knock and called by Mrs. Westwood until ten minutes later.

Frank Westwood was then lying on his back with his head on the floor and Mrs. Westwood was alone in the room with him. Mrs. Westwood had told her the shooting had occurred, and Frank had told her that he had been shot.

Frank had not, to her knowledge, quarrelled with any other member of the family.

Frank Rice, aged 17, 17 Star ave., had been asked by a stranger on the day of the shooting where Westwood lived. He denied it.

The stranger was about 25 years of age, 5 feet 8 inches, had light curly hair and light moustache and wore a dark suit.

James Burns, express driver, swore that he was the person who made the inquiry of the boys; he had a plan to deliver at Westwood's, and had been told by a proven valueless.

"Private Detective" Hornby, the man who found the scraps of the letter, said that he had been told by Frank that he had been shot.

The inquest was then adjourned for one week.
